

4 years is too long to wait for cleaner air

The Alamance County Commissioners have invited Stericycle to give a presentation about their operations at their next meeting.

Attend the next Alamance County Commissioners' Meeting and let your commissioners know that 4 years is too long to wait for cleaner air and ask them to support the resolution requiring Stericycle to comply with the new and more protective EPA standards for air pollutants from the Stericycle medical waste incinerator by 2012 – instead of 2014. Tell them to protect our children and seniors who at most risk from air pollution from Stericycle!

When: Monday July 19 at 7 p.m.

Time: The meeting will start at 7 p.m. sharp. Come early at 6:30 p.m. to sign up to speak. Each person will get 3 minutes (max).

Where: County Office Building, 124 W. Elm St.,
Commissioners Meeting Room, 2nd Floor, Graham, NC 27253

Bring: Wear your “Clean Air for Children!” apple sticker and bring 3-5 friends and/or family members to speak in support of the resolution!
